

I am an XM Radio subscriber. Satellite radio is enormously important -- the wave of the future for those of us who spend a lot of time in our cars. I gladly pay for my satellite radio service and use it almost all the time that I'm in the car. I use it for information as well as for music. I don't want the National Association of Broadcasters dictating what sort of information I can get.